

Stoker Ostler

Mason Depew is an Administrative Assistant at Stoker Ostler.

Stoker Ostler is a wealth advisory firm serving more than 600 Individuals and families, across the United States and internationally, overseeing more than $1 billion in assets under management.

Mason provides administrative support to our Scottsdale office and is responsible for office management and maintains front and back office duties. He is often the first person clients speak to when they call and ensures each client is treated warmly and professionally when they visit our office.

Mason is responsible for much of Stoker Ostler's digital file management and has played an integral role on a number of technological projects to ensure we have the best tools available and in working order. Mason also assists in specific client service activities, including research for class action securities litigations. His up-beat personality, organizational skills, and attention to detail enhance our clients' relationships with their team and our firm. Mason joined Stoker Ostler in June 2013.

Mason studied multiple languages in college, including Spanish, Latin, and Hebrew, loves to play piano and other keyboard-based instruments (such as a melodica), and is an avid reader of both fiction and nonfiction. Mason graduated with honors with a bachelor's degree in European History from Arizona State University.
